President's Message

June, 2020

June is here and at least some parts of our world are starting to re-open and return to a new normal. For some it's still too early; for others, too late. No matter what your situation is, I hope you are all staying safe.

Most all NCCC competitive events and social events have been cancelled through July. I really miss getting together with my extended NCCC family, whether it be for a competition event or a club picnic. I have managed to find time to clean my garage and detail my Corvette. I am slowly knocking a few items off my to-do list but I don't think there is any chance of running out of things to do.

As I write this, the NCCC Convention is still on as planned. Our hosts from the Indiana Region as well as Jim Walton, the NCCC Convention steering committee chair, are in constant communications. They are looking closely at all the details to insure that the convention can be hosted with safety for all. If you're planning to attend the convention, check the NCCC web site, as well as the NCCC Facebook page for any updates. We will do our best to keep you updated.

The National Corvette Museum has been closed to the public, but is scheduled to re-open June 8th. The Michelin NCM Bash was postponed and then changed to completely virtual Bash. I've spent the last couple days glued to my computer screen and I hope you had a chance to see it also. The Museum staff did a fantastic job with presentations covering Corvette history, the Bowling Green assembly plant, the NCM fashion show, new displays at the Museum, etc, etc. The entire presentation was very professionally done. Congratulations to all involved for making the best of a very difficult time.

I'll keep my post short this month. Stay safe and let's all look forward to a time when we can get together again and enjoy our Corvettes.

Save the Wave,

Dale Samuelson

NCCC President

2021 NCCC Nominations

It is that time of year that NCCC is looking for people to run for office for 2021. With the uncertainty of meetings during this time, the Nominations Committee has been meeting via the phone.

The following positions are up for nominations:

- President - Dale Samuelson plans to run again.
- Vice President of Membership - Amelia Workman is termed out.
- Treasurer - Chris Reitz can run again and is planning on running.
- Parliamentarian - Kathy Brisbois is termed out.
- Public Relations - John Cantelmo can run again, but is planning on chairing the 2022 Convention.

We would like to have at least one person per position, but two would be great.

To see job descriptions and the Nomination Form, go to the NCCC website:

Please contact the Nominations Committee if you are considering running for any of these offices.
